Esquimalt is awesome.

It goes without saying that we are fortunate to live in a beautiful and connected community like Esquimalt, now more so than ever.

Thank you to everyone who has remained diligent and to those who continue to help us every day, from teachers to medical professionals to municipal workers to frontline service staff as we move forward through COVID-19.

Township operations continue to service residents and businesses while observing the Provincial Health Officer's rules and recommendations to keep staff and the public safe.

While conditions continue to change, the Provincial Health Officer has ordered that everyone wear a mask in indoor public spaces, including the municipal hall.

Everyone's efforts to "be kind, be calm and be safe" are helping the community work together and keep spirits up during these challenging times. Thank you.

Keeping things festive...from a distance

Vote for your favourite Christmas tree!

For the past six years, local businesses and non-profits have delighted visitors with an array of creative and fantastical Christmas trees set on display at the Esquimalt Recreation Centre and Archie Browning Sports Centre. The public then votes on their favourite trees in a friendly competition. The event garners thousands of visitors every year. This year, the tradition continues but will move to a virtual display.

Community groups and local businesses were invited to decorate their tree in usual festive grandeur. They will then snap a photo and submit it for virtual display and to be in the running for People's Choice Winner. The winner will take home an Esquimalt Recreation prize package valued at more than $300.

Residents keen to view the trees can do so on the Township of Esquimalt website and the Esquimalt Parks and Recreation Facebook page starting December 2.

Virtual voting will take place through Facebook for a limited time so don't forget to vote! Go to facebook.com/esquimaltpandr on December 2.

From the archives

In 2004, after thirty-eight years, the Esquimalt Club dissolved and club members returned to the Victoria Club whose home ice was now at the Archie Browning Sports Centre.

The club's first production, 'Esquimalt Escapades,' presented in March 1969, featured 'Snow White and the 7 Dwarfs' and 'Salute to Esquimalt.' Rhonda (Burton) MacDonald was the first Esquimalt skater to receive a gold medal for figures.
